Social responsibility

Perspectives for a better future: Education for children

Since 2010 we have supported the award-winning foundation Childaid Network. In 2007 the married couple Dr. Brigitta Cladders and Dr. Martin Kasper established the foundation, with the purpose of creating better living conditions for children in need in Northeast India. Through networking with other organizations Childaid Network has been committed to provide education and vocational training to children and young people in the poorest regions of the world. The exemplary projects of the foundation are located in Assam / Northeast India, in Nepal, Laos and Bangladesh.

Within a few years the Kinderhilfswerk für Bildung (Children's Fund for Education) has laid the foundations for giving thousands of children and young people education in schools and craft enterprises. The longterm commitment of Ronnefeldt also helps families to manage their own small tea gardens.

Loose Tea

A world of pleasure

True tea connoisseurs prefer loose tea because it perfectly captures nature's wonderful diversity, richness of aromas and subtlety.

The number of varieties is almost endless, and savouring tea is a little like enjoying wine. The way it is processed, the time when it is plucked and the shape of its leaves give each tea its unique flavour.

Soil and climate also leave their imprint on the character of a tea.

Exquisite teas only grow in areas where perfect climatic conditions are combined with cultivation methods that have developed from a long tradition. There are only a few regions in the world that beautifully meet these conditions: India with Assam and Darjeeling, Sri Lanka (Ceylon), China and Taiwan (Formosa) are among the most famous tea growing countries.

Ronnefeldt offers you a fine selection of exclusive teas from around the world for your discerning guests.

Matcha

The emerald green jewel

Matcha (mat = ground; cha = tea) is a finely ground green tea that is an important part of the Japanese tea ceremony. As early as 800 years ago it was made by Buddhist monks who used it for their meditation rituals.

Only a few dozen tea farmers have the extensive knowledge required for producing this unique variety. Four weeks before plucking the tea fields that have been selected for Matcha are shaded with big nets so that the leaves are becoming especially tender and delicious. After the harvest the precious leaves are carefully steamed and dried; the veins and stems are thoroughly removed. At this stage, the so-called Tencha is slowly ground into a superfine, emerald green powder. Now Matcha is ready to be prepared. After pouring water on the powder the mixture is frothed up with a bamboo whisk. The result is a wonderfully creamy and rich green tea.

Today this historic, bright emerald beverage has been re-discovered and is highly appreciated by a growing number of tea connoisseurs. Whether you serve Matcha in the traditional way or as a trendy Matcha Latte, you will surprise your guests with a unique and exquisite experience. Ronnefeldt has all the utensils that you need for preparing and serving Matcha – in authentic Japanese style and premium quality.
